

Diego C. Reino, MD

Diego C. Reino, MD
President and CEO

Diego C. Reino, MD, founder and Chief Executive Officer of Intercept TeleMed, is a board-certified transplant surgeon specializing in liver and kidney surgeries. He has trained and practiced at some of the nation's most prominent hospitals that specialize in transplantation, including UCLA, the Cleveland Clinic, where he was a leading transplantation surgeon, and Rutgers University. Through this work, Dr. Reino saw the needs and benefits of tele-ICU medicine, which became the impetus for him to found Intercept TeleMed. He received his BA degree in biology from Drew University and his MD from Rutgers University.