

Hugh Jackson, MHA, MS
Cardiovascular Service Line Business Development Manager
Wellstar Center for Cardiovascular Care

Hugh Jackson, MHA, MS is the Cardiovascular Service Line Business Development Manager at the Wellstar Center for Cardiovascular Care. He is responsible for business development and strategic initiatives across Cardiovascular subspecialties, as well as the administrative dyad for Vascular surgical quality.

Hugh received a Bachelor of Science from Wabash College, a Masters in Kinesiology & Health from Miami University of Ohio and a Masters in Health Care Administration from Trinity University where he graduated Upsilon Phi Delta and won the Baylor University Robbins Case Competition in Health Care Management. Prior to Wellstar, he completed an Administrative Residency at the Tanner Health System where he then spent 5 years as a Service Line Administrator with responsibilities overseeing Gastroenterology, Urology, Orthopedics, and system strategic initiatives. He is an active member of GAHE on both the Membership and Programs committees, a Big Brother in Big Brothers Big Sisters of Metro Atlanta and is on the Board of the Trinity University Alumni Club of Atlanta.

Hugh married his wife, Anne, this year and has yet to mentally return from their honeymoon in Italy.